We are happy to announce three new classes implemented in the Behavioral program: Yoga class, dance class and an art class. The classes are held twice a week and taught by our wonderful staff. Our clients are excited and have been enjoying each class.

Classes Held at Local Volunteer Site

Westview's Community Based Program is utilizing one of its volunteer sites as a location to hold basic cooking classes, computer classes and yoga classes. In the near future, we plan to use the facility to begin a music class in which clients can use their musical creativity to express themselves.

Music is often noted as an art and through our clients' musical talent we will be able to get a glimpse of their artistic side. Some instruments that will be used consist of piano, guitars (acoustic and electric) and tambourines. Can anyone say Beethoven or John Mayer?

New Volunteer Sites

We have two new volunteer sites in the Riverside area, which will allow for many more growth and employment training opportunities for our clients.

The Y.M.C.A. in Riverside has opened its doors to us, in allowing our clients to assist in setting up for luncheons held at the facility weekly. After the set-up is complete, the Director has given Westview permission to utilize the facility to its full capacity. Activities include: spin classes, a personal trainer, swimming and swim lessons with our own lifeguard, weight lifting and work out classes, indoor basketball, yoga and dance.

The Riverside Citrus Park and Museum has also treated Westview's clients with kindness. We have the honor of helping the historical landmark continue to cultivate its harvest! Given various tasks to complete in the park, our clients will be able to explore the historical foundation of California's citrus mining farm, how it began, locate the mother and father trees which sprouted the well known and thriving area, as well as help preserve many variations of the orange, lime, grapefruit and lemon families. Our clients are excited to partake in such a wonderful opportunity and give a special thank you to everyone at the Museum.

"Our clients are happy to give their time and service to the community."
